

Mutual non-disclosure agreement

The purpose of this document is to record the terms of a confidentiality agreement between us covering disclosures relating to ideas, designs and prototypes for new products and methods of production.

During the course of our discussions, it may be necessary to disclose concepts believed to be novel and/or technical specifications and/or methods of manufacture, set-up and other information necessary or useful for the success of products, manufacture and marketing.

We confirm our willingness to disclose information on the following terms and conditions, and in consideration agree:

- (i) That you will receive and hold in confidence the information disclosed by either of us from time to time and, in particular, (a) you will take such steps that may be necessary to prevent the disclosure of the information to anyone outside your firm and, within your firm, to anyone to whom to disclose such information would not be essential for the proper evaluation of the products or methods and (b) you will not commercially use the information in any manner without first having obtained our written consent to the particular form of utilisation proposed.
- (ii) The commitments set forth above shall not extend to any portion of the information:
  - a) which is generally available to the public, or
  - b) which hereafter through no act on your part becomes generally available to the public, or
  - c) which you can demonstrate was already in your possession, or known to you, or had already been furnished to you on a non confidential basis by any third party entitled so to do.
- (iii) The commitments set forth above shall endure for a period of 3 years from the date hereof
- (iv) This agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England, to the courts of which we submit.
